Malaysia's economy powers ahead as Q4 2025 growth beats last year, setting the stage for a stronger 2026

Malaysia's gross domestic product (GDP) growth for the fourth quarter of 2025 (Q4 2025) is expected to exceed the year-earlier level, signalling stronger underlying momentum and lower downside risks heading into 2026, according to economists.

Malaysia's GDP grew by 5.0 per cent in Q4 2024, driven mainly by domestic demand.

IPPFA Sdn Bhd director of investment strategy and country economist Mohd Sedek Jantan said the official Q4 2025 GDP growth outcome is expected to be broadly in line with the Department of Statistics Malaysia's (DOSM) advance estimate of 5.7 per cent, with only limited revision risk.

Mohd Sedek said compared with Q4 2024, when growth was still influenced by post-pandemic normalisation and external volatility, the current expansion is more internally generated.

"Households are spending with greater confidence, labour conditions have remained tight, and inflation has moderated enough to preserve real purchasing power, supporting growth that is more persistent rather than front-loaded. – Malay Mail

WCT plans RM5b sukuk wakalah to fund working capital, debt refinancing

WCT Holdings Bhd (KL:WCT) has proposed a sukuk wakalah programme of up to RM5 billion to fund working capital and refinancing of borrowings.

The construction group said in a bourse filing that it had lodged the necessary documents with the Securities Commission Malaysia.

The sukuk programme carries a perpetual tenure, with each issuance to have a maturity of more than one year, determined prior to issuance. WCT also has the option to issue sustainability sukuk or sustainability-linked sukuk under the programme.

MARC Ratings Bhd has assigned preliminary ratings of A+IS and A-IS, both with a positive outlook.

Proceeds will be channelled towards capital expenditure, investments, general corporate purposes, working capital, refinancing of shariah-compliant or conventional borrowings, and programme-related fees. – The Edge Malaysia

10-year Treasury yield is little changed as investors await busy week of economic data

The 10-year Treasury yield was little changed to begin the week as investors looked ahead to a flurry of economic data, including the delayed January jobs report. The benchmark yield was less than 1 basis point lower at 4.20%, as was the 30-year Treasury yield at 4.854%. The 2-year Treasury note yield also fell less than 1 basis point to 3.487%.

Investors are expecting a flurry of economic data this week, much of which was delayed due to the partial U.S. government shutdown. This includes the nonfarm payrolls report for January, which was initially scheduled for last Friday, but which the Bureau of Labor Statistics will now release on Wednesday morning.

The report is forecast to show a gain of 55,000 jobs for the month, after a 50,000 increase in December, per economists surveyed by Dow Jones. The unemployment rate is projected to hold steady at 4.4%.

The January consumer price index reading, also delayed by the shutdown, is due out on Friday morning. Economists surveyed by Dow Jones expect that the annual inflation rate eased to 2.5%. – CNBC
